

2nd International Conference

HUS-MPGN-PNH

Current diagnosis and therapy of thrombotic microangiopathies:
hemolytic uremic syndrome (HUS), membrano proliferative
Glomerulonephritis (MPGN) and paroxysmal nocturnal
Hemoglobinuria (PNH)

Date:

Sunday, June 13 - Tuesday, June 15, 2010

Location:

Austria Trend Hotel Innsbruck

Programme

Dear colleague!

HUS, MPGN and PNH are three different diseases with many common trunks. In this meeting we will focus on new therapeutic options of the three diseases. These will also include renal transplantation in aHUS caused by complement defects and autoantibodies against complement proteins. New therapeutic strategies including use of Eculizumab will be presented.

Basic science will be focused on clinical issues. The latest findings will be shown. Invited speakers are current leaders in the field.

This conference is open to all interested in the subject. However, space is limited. Maximum capacity is 150 people. This insures direct contact of all participants. There is ample time for discussion. Free communications and Posters are included. So please, present the results from your current research or clinical experience.

Information is available through the net www.hemolytic-uremic-syndrome.org or directly from my office.

We hope to see you in Innsbruck
